Italian Loans and Credits Prohibition Emergency Regulation, Repealing Regulation.

The Italian Loans and Credits Prohibition Emergency Regulatic 1936 was passed as an Emergency Regulation on 2nd March 1936 on the lines of a similar Ordinance passed in British India in pursuance c the sanctions which the British Government had undertaken to enforc against Italy. On the capture of the Abyssinian Capital by Italy, it was decided to lift the sanctions. The Government of India have accordingly declared that the Italian Loans and Credits Prohibition Act 1936 shall cease to be in operation with effect from 15th July 1936. Power had been reserved in the Government of India Act to repeal the Act by a notification. There is no such power under the Mysore Regulation which will be in force till 2nd September 1936.

It has therefore to be repealed by a repealing Regulation in accordance with the decision arrived at in British India.

The draft of a repealing Regulation is submitted for approval.
